

REPORT FROM THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE – 2023 ACTIVITIES

“The mission of IPPS, with a focus on the global community of those involved in horticultural plant production, is to share knowledge, information, and skills; to provide guidance and support for lifelong career achievements; to increase recognition of the profession; and to maximize the integration of research, education, and horticultural knowledge.”

In Two-Thousand Twenty-Three, IPPS experienced a post-Covid revival with increased membership, restored in-person conferences and events, and the eagerly awaited return of International Tour events.

The Southern Region of North America hosted the first International Tour in several years, delivering a wonderful, immersive, and socially enriching experience for all participants. The International Board extends profound gratitude to everyone involved in organizing and managing this exceptional International Tour. Despite some challenges stemming from the preceding Covid-19 pandemic, the sense of camaraderie and an unwavering spirit of adventure prevailed, creating lasting memories.

The return to in-person events, coupled with the diligent efforts of regional secretaries and board members, undoubtedly contributed to the notable surge in membership in 2023. IPPS remains committed to fostering this momentum, striving to further enhance membership and curate outstanding events.

The Proceedings continue to be presented in a digital format on our website, with Curran Publishing handling the printing for our members, especially those based in North America.

IPPS expresses profound appreciation for the International Sponsors for 2023: Ball Seed, Harrell’s, Bailey’s Nurseries, and Spring Meadow Nursery, along with our North American Sponsors: ICL Osmocote, Nursery Supplies, and Star Roses and Plants. These invaluable sponsors play a crucial role in ensuring the sustainability of our organization. Without their generous contributions, the necessity to increase membership dues, potentially straining our members, would be a looming challenge. Their support, along with countless volunteers throughout IPPS, allows us to uphold our steadfast commitment to the “seek and share” motto, enabling us to operate efficiently and effectively.

As we embrace the successes of 2023, IPPS looks forward to a future filled with continued growth, collaboration, and excellence in serving our global horticulture industry and membership.
