

REPORT FROM THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE – 2010 ACTIVITIES

"The mission of IPPS, with a focus on the global community of those involved in horticultural plant production, is to share knowledge, information, and skills; to provide guidance and support for lifelong career achievements; to increase recognition of the profession; and to maximize the integration of research, education, and horticultural knowledge."

In the year 2010, the International Board of Directors embraced the technology that can join people around the world by arranging its first telephone conference of the Board. The technology, much less expensive and cost-effective now, allowed a time to be established when every Director and Alternate Director could conceivably be available at a reasonable hour. Building on the success of this activity, the Board agreed to hold at least three (3) conference calls in 2011 in addition to the in-person meeting.

Another significant leap into the age of technology was the launch of the PubHort website housing abstracts and full papers from 56 volumes of the Combined Proceedings. For the first time, the general public around the world has the ability to read all the abstracts from these many years of shared knowledge. If desired, they can read and save or print the full papers for a small fee. However, as a member benefit, all IPPS members now have the ability to download up to ten of the full papers at no charge. They can, of course, download more than the complimentary papers for the same small fee. The PubHort website, managed by the International Society for Horticultural Science (ISHS) will be updated each year with the abstracts and papers from the current year's Proceedings.

Volume 59 of the Combined Proceedings was completed in late summer and distributed to all members in book and/or CD formats. Libraries around the world continue to purchase copies to keep their collections up to date. Members and non-members continue to be able to purchase back issues of the Proceedings as long as inventory lasts.

MEMBERSHIP

Overall membership in IPPS dropped by 8% in 2010, with regions reporting on June 1 as follows:

Region	2010 Members	2009 Members	Change
Australia	232	274	-42
Eastern	471	520	-49
Great Britain & Ireland	161	231	-70

Japan	66	58	+8
New Zealand	210	214	-4
Southern African	72	60	+12
Southern	273	266	+7
Western	297	311	-14
At-large members	5	5	0
TOTALS	1,787	1,939	-152

The newly developed At-Large Member offering attracted five members in 2010 from various areas of the world – from countries outside the geographic scope of the current regions. Future development of this option is expected.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 2010 INTERNATIONAL BOARD MEETING

On September 23, 25, and 28, the International Board of Directors met in Jersey City, New Jersey; Lenox, Massachusetts; and Warwick, Rhode Island with James Johnson presiding at the meeting. All eight regions were represented.

Highlights of the meeting are as follows:

- Minutes of the September 2009 meeting were approved.
- Activities of the International Office were reviewed, including the reported levels of staff time needed to manage the IPPS international operations.
- Year-end membership for 2010 was recorded at 1,787 from all regions, a decrease of 152 in the reported numbers compared to the previous year.
- Six at-large memberships were acknowledged.
- Five-year membership plaques were distributed to 78 members for 2010, as reported by the regions.
- Financial reports through eight months of the fiscal year, August 31, 2010, were reviewed, as well as the investments as of that same date. Investments reported 4% in earnings so far in 2010, after a drop in 2008 and a rebound in 2009.
- A year-end projection on income and expenses for 2010 reflected the likelihood that operations will end with a small loss of just under $1400, close to the budget projection for this year.
- The International Editor presented reports regarding publication of Volume 58 distributed in September of 2009, and Volume 59 just being mailed in September of 2010, with fewer books and CDs produced due to declining membership. Noted was that 50% of members take the Proceedings in book format; 21% take the Proceedings in CD format; and 8% take the Proceedings as both the book and CD, leaving 21% that do not receive the Proceedings at all with their memberships.
- The Board reviewed the final activities associated with mounting the first 56 volumes of the Combined Proceedings on the PubHort website of the International Society for Horticultural Science.
- The Board agreed to allow those members whose dues do not include the Proceedings to receive ten (10) free downloads of papers from the PubHort website – the same as those members whose dues include the Proceedings in book or CD format. The cost of this membership benefit is to be supported by all members, with details to be developed by the Finance Committee.
- Reports from the various Regions, presented by their Directors, were reviewed.
- Estimates for production of Volume 60 were approved.

- The investment broker handling IPPS' Board-restricted funds (W. Craig McLean of MorganStanleySmithBarney) met with the Board to discuss a proposal to move some or all investments to Australia for a better return. The Board approved a recommendation from the broker for a new investment strategy that allows more global opportunities and more flexibility without more risk, leaving the funds invested in the USA. Other options will continue to be researched for the future.
- The Board agreed that the International Secretary-Treasurer would be excused from participating in the International Tour and attending the International Board Meetings, saving that expense in the annual budget. Instead, electronic recording of the Board's meeting will be arranged, with minutes transcribed by the International Secretary-Treasurer afterwards.
- Another cost savings was approved by eliminating a telephone line for the International Office, leaving email as the primary contact for IPPS, since the phone line was rarely used.
- Plans to implement an international newsletter were moved to the Editor's Advisory Committee to explore ways to launch this initiative with minimal cost to IPPS.
- A proposal from the GB&I region for a membership recruitment subsidization activity was reviewed by the Finance Committee and further Board consideration was not recommended.
- A change in the Board structure was approved, as follows:
 - A position of "Chair" was added to manage the affairs of the Board for a one-year term, with up to two additional one-year terms possible. The individual in this position will be elected by the Board existing at the time of nomination and election, and the chair will be part of the existing Board.
 - The position of President will be retained as the representative of the region hosting the International Tour and Meeting, but will not carry responsibility for the Board's management.
 - The position of Second Vice-President position was eliminated, to avoid additional officers in the new structure.
 - All changes will be presented to the membership for voting as Constitution changes over the next year, with implementation possible for the 2012 year. The Board will review the proposed language changes no later than November 15, 2010.
- The Board discussed a preliminary budget for 2011, with a final decision planned for a Board conference call no later than November 15, 2010.
- The Board approved the changes made in the Constitution language based on approvals from the meeting in 2009, ready for presentation to the membership.
- A new schedule for the International Tour and International Board Meetings was approved for regions to follow, probably beginning with the 2012 International Tour in Japan. The Board-approved policy requires a minimum of seven (7) days attendance by International Board members, to include the regional conference, a tour, and a minimum of 16 hours of meeting time for the International Board.
- The recipient of the Award of Honor for 2011 was identified and approved.
- Preliminary plans for the 2011 International Tour in the Australian Region and the 2012 International Tour in Japan were reviewed.
- Officers for 2011 were elected as follows: Greg McPhee (Australia) as President, and Nobumasa Nito (Japan) as Vice President. The Second Vice President position was left vacant in view of the proposed change in the officer structure.
- Changes in the Restricted Funds were discussed, moving funds supporting the 50-year index to other areas of support.
- Approval was given for IPPS to enter into a partnership with FloraCulture for IPPS members to receive FloraCulture International only if the members so requested.

- To provide more continuity in Board activity throughout the year, the Board agreed to participate in at least three conference calls at other times of the year (approximately quarterly).
- Approval was given for the International Editor's continued participation in the International Tour, region's conference, and Board meeting, with an expectation that articles about the tour stops will be prepared by Board members and collected by the Editor to put with photos for an overview of the tour for the website and international newsletter.
- Exploration will begin on how to reduce the paper used for Board member meeting packets, utilizing electronic files and on-screen projection of reports if feasible.

SUMMARY OF THE 2010 INTERNATIONAL TOUR Eastern United States September, 2010

The northeastern seaboard of the United States is but a portion of the Eastern Region, but the area reflects much of the history of the settlement of the country. The history is alive and well, both from the days of the Pilgrims who first settled what is called "New England" through much of the colonial times leading to the American Revolution which gave the country its independence in 1776.

IPPS International President Jim Johnson and Eastern Region Director Alan Jones spent a great deal of time organizing and hosting the tour group through some of the best gardens and production nurseries in the USA, as well as giving a flavor of the history and beauty of this area. We always appreciate how much work and planning is required to put these tours together. Our thanks go not only to the more visible leaders, but also to the IPPS members who help out with various tasks, to the Regional Secretary-Treasurer (Margot Bridgen) for office support, to the representatives of the nurseries and other tour stops who take time for gracious interaction with the tour participants.

The tour began in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with visits to two outstanding display gardens near the city – Mt. Cuba Center and Longwood Gardens. Both are well known for their gardens but also as horticultural institutions whose mission includes teaching and displays that help the general public appreciate garden design. The day ended with dinner hosted by IPPS members Dale Hendricks and Steve Castorani of North Creek Nurseries in Delaware, known for their large selection of perennials, grasses, and ferns with an emphasis on new varieties and Eastern North American natives and their cultivars.

Day two focused on historic Philadelphia, with a visit to the symbol of America's freedom, the Liberty Bell and Independence Hall. The afternoon visit to Chanticleer Gardens showcases one of the most beautiful pleasure gardens, converted from a private estate and opened to the public in 1993.

The next days were spent in New Jersey, known as "The Garden State" for good reason. First, the group was treated to WheatonArts, absorbing the history of the birthplace of the American glass industry. The museum showcases the finest collection of American glass with a fully operational Glass Studio along with other studios for artists demonstrating traditional crafts of pottery, wood, and frameworking. A wine tasting at Bellview Winery set the stage for the next day's visits to Lucas Greenhouses, Centerton Nursery, Overdevest Nurseries, and dinner hosted at Blue Sterling Nursery.

George and Louise Lucas built a huge greenhouse facility starting in 1979 which has become a major resource for the retail industry, noted for excellence in product and service. Ray and Marlene Blue purchased Centerton Nursery in 1975 and now have three generations involved in its operation. They have developed a number of well-known product brands including the Hasslefree® Rose line and the Happy Ever Appster® daylily line. Ed and Gail Overdevest have helped the expansion of this diversified production nursery, with container production involving over 2.7 million square feet of coverable growing space. Blue Sterling Nursery owners, Jim and Barb Smith are frequent International IPPS Tour participants, and their nursery specializes in clonal dwarf and slow growing conifers, but also includes rare, miniature, slow-growing, and unique plants gathered from their travels around the world.

A visit to Pine Island Cranberry Company gave the tour group a look at cranberry production in a 1,400-acre bog, followed by a visit to Pinelands Nursery & Supply, owned by Don and Suzanne Knezick and one of the largest native plant nurseries in the USA. Next, Scott and Craig Daum of Four Seasons Nursery and Landscape Co. showed off their family nursery that supplies the entire northeastern coast with quality landscape material. The day finished with a visit to Grounds for Sculpture, with 240 works of art in a park-like setting.

Princeton, New Jersey, is a university town and also the site of the Governor's residence, called Drumthwacket, considered one of the most elegant of America's executive residences with acres of landscapes grounds surrounding the estate home. In the area, the group toured Pleasant Run Nursery and were hosted for lunch by Richard and Heidi Hesselein. The afternoon included time at Kube Pack, a greenhouse operation owned by the Swanekamp family, with a specialty in plugs and rooted cuttings.

The next day took the tour into New York City for a visit to Central Park, America's first and foremost major urban public space, as well as time at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Also in the city is Battery Park City, with urban parks and public art installed on a 92-acre community development site along the Hudson River shoreline with 13 parks and playgrounds covering nearly 36 acres of open space. The group also visited the Highline, a wonderful public park situated high above the city on a former railroad lifting freight trains away from the city streets. And finally, a visit to the Bronx Zoo allowed time in 265 acres of parkland and naturalistic habitats for the 4,000 animals who call it home.

Moving into the next state, Massachusetts, the group visited the Norman Rockwell Museum in Stockbridge, dedicated to the enjoyment and study of one of America's most noted artists. Nearby was Naumkeag, a quintessential country estate which served as a summer home during its prime in the "gilded age." The gardens in various areas of the estate grounds keep a visitor interested and fascinated with the creative display of plant material and hardscape additions. Windy Hill Farm Nursery provided a wonderful dinner hosted by Dennis and Judy Mareb, and a tour of a fine retail garden center including a pick-your-own apple operation.

Two nursery stops the following day offered diverse operations. Hillside Nursery offers a specialty line of Cypripedium orchids and selected woodland perennial plants, primarily through mail-order purchase. Nourse Farms has been a family-owned, premier grower of small fruit plants for over 75 years. For local culture, the group visited the Bridge of Flowers in quaint Shelburne Falls, originally a trolley bridge but turned into a 400-foot garden walk after it was retired from use. And time spent at Yankee Candle, the flagship store for this "Disney World of Candles," provided the chance for the tour group to help the local economy.

The last tour day started with a visit to Old Sturbridge Village, the largest outdoor history museum in the Northeast. This visit back in time to a rural New England town included authentically costumed staff and a wonderful tour by a local woman whose personal enthusiasm for plants and gardens added extra insights for the interest of our group.

The University of Connecticut in Storrs provided a look at the Waxman Conifer Collection and the New England Invasive Plant Center. And the day and tour culminated with a memorable dinner hosted by owner Mark Sellew at Prides Corner, a market leader selling more than a dozen branded plant programs and over 2000 varieties of plants.

Once again, everyone involved in IPPS was reminded of the camaraderie, the shared knowledge, the respect and appreciation for different cultures, and the friendships over many years that have become a hallmark of IPPS.
